All West Communications Fiber Network Coming to Ogden Fiber Optic Expansion Welcomed by Mayor Caldwell

KAMAS, UTAH | June 19, 2023 – All West Communications is thrilled to announce plans to expand its multi-gig fiber optic broadband, streaming TV service and digital phone solutions to the residents of Ogden, Utah. This expansion will bring services to over 27,000 homes and businesses in the city.

All West Communications believes in delivering the best possible services to the communities they serve – and investing in all-fiber networks is one way they do this. “The expansion is part of the company’s regional development and growth plans, and Ogden City is a critical component in the development of our system,” stated Matt Weller, President of All West Communications.

Ogden City Mayor, Matthew Caldwell, expressed his excitement and appreciation for All West Communications’ commitment to the community. “The new fiber infrastructure is expected to improve the quality of life for residents and benefit local businesses.” All West’s expansion into Ogden is self-funded and requires no financial commitment from the city. Engineering work is already underway with construction beginning this summer.

All West’s fiber internet offerings will include symmetrical speed tiers up to 8 Gig for residential and 10 Gig for businesses. They will also be offering other excellent services including managed Wi-Fi, which gives customers complete control of their home network; All West.tv, a digital TV streaming service with over 115+ channels to choose from; and VoIP phone solutions, with both local and long-distance options. All West also participates in the Affordable Connectivity Program (ACP), an FCC program that reduces the monthly cost of internet service for qualified households.
